ABDICATION OF THE TSAR OF RUSSIA—THE GRAND DUKE MICHAEL BECOMES REGENT—AMAZING NEWS FROM PETROGRAD.

Tsar Nicholas II., who succeeded Alexander III., in 1894.

The Tsar's young heir.—(Stanley.)

Russia's beautiful Tsarina.

The Tsar and Tsarevitch during one of their visits to the front.

Petrograd broke the silence last night, and during the evening the telegrams provided the most sensational news. After describing the revolutionary movement in Petrograd came the announcement that the Tsar had abdicated and that the Grand Duke Michael was to be Regent. The Tsar, who was born at Petrograd (then St. Petersburg), is a near relative to King George, to whom he bears a striking resemblance. He married Princess Alice, daughter of Ludwig IV., Grand Duke of Hesse.

BUILDING SHIPS AND BUYING WHEAT.

Secret of New Credit Vote for £64,000,000.

"TO DEFEAT FOE'S AIMS."

Mr. Bonar Law asked the House of Commons for a further Vote of Credit for £64,000,000 last night.

The items which made a new Vote necessary were, he explained, the following:—

Wheat from Australia .....	£18,000,000
Advances to Allies and Dominions ..	23,000,000
Munitions and purchase of merchant shipping .....	23,000,000

£64,000,000

This Vote of Credit brings the total war expenditure to March 31, the end of the current year, to £3,792,000,000.

Mr. Bonar Law mentioned that little more than a month ago two Votes of Credit were passed, one for £350,000,000 for the services of the coming financial year, and the other for £200,000,000 to meet the expenses of the current financial year.

They now found that it was not sufficient, and that a further Vote of Credit was necessary.

He need not say that this came as a very disagreeable surprise.

It was exceptionally difficult to make any accurate forecast of the expenditure which was likely to be incurred in any definite period.

Sir L. C. Money explained that we were both building and buying ships.

With regard to standardised ship construction, the Government were legislating for a considerable period, and the programme they had laid down was a very big one.

Our shipping was diminishing, and it was only too likely that the restrictions of imports would have to be extended in the near future.

By balancing our submarine losses against our shipbuilding and purchasing programme we could estimate the volume of our future imports and so arrange our national programme as to defeat the designs of the enemy.

£40,000,000 FOR RUMANIA.

A delayed telegram from Jassy states that at a Cabinet Council it was announced that Great Britain had agreed to advance to Rumania £40,000,000 at par. The loan will bear interest at 5 per cent.

GALLIPOLI V.C.S.

Heroes Who Helped to Gain the Cliffs Under Terrific Fire.

The King has been pleased to approve of the award of the Victoria Cross to the undermentioned officer and non-commissioned officers of the 1st Battalion Lancashire Fusiliers in recognition of most conspicuous bravery displayed:—

Captain (Temporary Major) Culbert Bromley (since drowned).

No. 1508 Sergeant Frank Edward Stubbs (since died of wounds).

No. 2809 Corporal (now Sergeant) John Grimshaw.

On April 25, 1915, headquarters and three companies of the 1st Battalion Lancashire Fusiliers, in effecting a landing on the Gallipoli Peninsula to the west of Cape Helles, were met by very deadly fire from hidden machine guns, which caused a great number of casualties. The survivors, however, rushed up to and cut the wire entanglements, notwithstanding the terrific fire from the enemy, and after overcoming supreme difficulties the cliffs were gained.

FRENCH AIR CRISIS.

Admiral Lacaze Appointed Minister for War.

PARIS, Thursday.—M. Briand announced General Lyautey's resignation to his colleagues at a Cabinet meeting to-day, and submitted for President Poincaré's signature a decree entrusting Admiral Lacaze, Minister of Marine, with the post of Minister of War ad interim.

A Cabinet meeting to-morrow will discuss the situation created by General Lyautey's resignation.—Reuter.

An earlier Paris message stated that following a secret session of the Chamber of Deputies to discuss an interpellation on military aviation, the public sitting was resumed, and various resolutions that had been submitted were read.

M. Eynac's resolution, which took note of the Government's statement, and looked to it to co-ordinate various air services and intensify aerial warfare, was accepted, and when General Lyautey, Minister of War, who had left the Government Bench during the debate, had resigned.

The sentence of five years' penal servitude passed at Cork on Patrick Fleming for attempting to prejudice Army discipline by attempting to purchase arms and ammunition from soldiers and with possessing seditious documents has been confirmed.

£17 GROCERY BILL.

What Woman Food Hoarder Spent in a Week.

NO POTATOES IN 15 WEEKS?

"I heard of a woman who spent £17 in groceries in one week, and she had no excuse for it—simply selfishness for the purpose of storing." This illustrative case of food hoarding was disclosed by Mr. J. Grant Ramsey, at the Institute of Hygiene, yesterday. "If everyone is doing that (the speaker added) that in itself is a reason for foods being scarce and prices very high."

No Potato Rations.—The Food Controller announces that he sees no ground for taking over the remaining stocks of potatoes or for introducing a system of rationing.

According to the estimate made by Mr. J. Dennis, the Controller of Potato Supplies (said Mr. E. L. Vinden, the president of the London and Home Counties Association of Retailers yesterday) there is only a supply of potatoes left in the country equivalent to half a pound per person per week for the next fifteen weeks.

Drastic Threat.—The General Officer Commanding the London District has issued an order requiring, as from March 14, all or any premises licensed for the sale of intoxicating liquors in the Metropolitan Police area, to be closed where members of his Majesty's naval or military forces are charged more than 3s. 6d. for luncheon (excluding liquor), 1s. 6d. for tea, 5s. 6d. for dinner (excluding liquor) and 6d. for coffee.

Ploughmen To Be Released.—The Minister of Munitions announces that men employed on munitions who are skilled ploughmen shall return wherever possible to the land for the ploughing season.

COURT IN MOURNING.

The King's Command for Late Duchess of Connaught.

Last night's Court Circular announced that the King commands that the Court shall wear mourning for four weeks for her late Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught and Strathmore, aunt of his Majesty. The Court to change half-mourning on Thursday, April 5 next, and on Thursday, April 12, the Court to go out of mourning.

The funeral of the late Duchess will take place at St. George's Chapel, Windsor Castle, on Monday next, at 11.30 a.m.

The arrangements are being made by the Lord Chamberlain's department from whence invitations for the service will be issued. Owing to the circumstances of the war, by special wish of H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught, it is requested that no flowers be sent.

Messages of sympathy with the Duke of Connaught in his great bereavement have reached Clarence House from all parts of the Empire.

The King and Queen and Queen Alexandra were among the first to express their condolence.

GERMANY'S DIRE PLIGHT.

News That Enemy Cannot Hold Out Much Longer.

Reuter's Agency yesterday sent out the following remarkable statement regarding the condition of Germany:—

Reuter's Agency learns that news received in London from an absolutely authentic source is to the effect that the situation in Germany is becoming "daily more desperate."

The position is painted in the blackest colours, and reliable persons who have come out of Germany declare that in consequence of the food question alone the country cannot hold out much longer.

A Reuter Berné wire says it is announced that Herr von Bethmann Hollweg will go to Vienna at the end of the week in order to return the recent visit of Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister.

It is reported from Tenerife, says a Wireless Press Madrid message, that the sailing ship San Jose has discovered six miles from the African coast a barrel containing about 160 gallons of alcohol.

WAR CHIEFS' VISIT.

Famous Franco-British Statesmen and Soldiers Guests of the King.

GENERAL NIVELLE PRESENT.

The Court Circular last night stated that on Tuesday last the following had the honour of being invited to luncheon with the King and Queen:—

His Excellency the French Ambassador (M. Paul Cambon), M. Ribot (the French Minister), General Lyautey (former French Minister of War), Admiral La Caze (French Minister of Marine and War), M. Albert Thomas (French Minister of Munitions), General Nivelle (Commander-in-Chief of the French Armies), the Right Hon. D. Lloyd George, M.P., the Earl of Derby, the Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, M.P., the Right Hon. Sir Edward Carson, M.P., Field-Marshal Sir D. Haig, and General Sir William Robertson.

ORDER YOUR "MIRROR."

Plan to Solve the Paper Problem by Preventing Waste.

Unless you give a specific order to your newsagent to supply you with The Daily Mirror daily the probabilities are that in the near future you will be unable to obtain it.

It is anticipated that very shortly unsold copies of newspapers will not be accepted back from newsagents, in which event the latter will order only a sufficient number to meet actual requirements.

Readers of "The Daily Mirror," to avoid disappointment, should give an order to their newsagent at once.

Give your order to-day.

"We are doing our best to solve the problem of the restricted supply of paper for newspapers" (writes a well-known newsagent), "and it will help us immensely if the public give us a specific order for their daily newspaper."

Readers of the Sunday Pictorial are also advised to give their newsagent an advance order for their favourite Sunday paper.

Mr. Lewis Haslam, the Liberal member for Monmouth Boroughs, will on Monday ask the President of the Board of Trade whether, in order to reduce the consumption of paper and to prevent unnecessary railway traffic, he will take steps to disallow the return by news-vendors by railway of newspapers unsold, so that news-vendors will be obliged to order the newspapers they are likely to require instead of ordering quantities on the chance of sale.

'FRENCH ATTACKS FAILED'

GERMAN OFFICIAL.

Western Front.—During the rainy weather the artillery activity remained slight in most sectors.

In the Champagne French attacks on the north-western slope of Hill 185, to the south of Ripont, could not develop before our destructive fire.

Reconnoitring advances in the Somme region and on the western bank of the Meuse, where a French field post to the south of Cumieres was destroyed by a vigorous action during clear daylight, brought us a number of prisoners.—Admiralty per Wireless.

FRENCH OFFICIAL.

East of the Oise a coup de main carried out by us in the region of Moulin-sous-Touvent enabled us to make some prisoners.

Several German attempts against our small posts in the neighbourhood of Vingre, west of Navarin, and in the Argonne failed under our fire.

In the region of Maisons de Champagne there was a fairly active artillery struggle without any infantry action.—Reuter.

A NEW FIELD-MARSHAL.

The Secretary of the War Office announces that the King has approved of the promotion to the rank of Field-Marshal of General Sir Charles Comyn Egerton, retired pay, late Indian Army, in succession to the late Field-Marshal Earl Roberts.

RETREAT OF GERMANS EXTENDED SOUTH.

British Occupy Trenches on Front of Two and a Half Miles.

THRUST NEAR SAILLISEL.

Positions Improved at Achiet—Foe Attack Fails.

BRITISH OFFICIAL.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, Thursday, 8.47 P.M.—The area of the enemy withdrawal has extended towards the south. We have occupied his trenches on a front of two and a half miles from south of St. Pierre Vaast Wood to north of the village of Saillisel.

Early this morning a strong enemy counter-attack east of Achiet-le-Petit was successfully beaten off by our troops. We improved our position in this neighbourhood.

This morning, after a heavy bombardment, the enemy succeeded in entering our trenches south-east of Arras. A few of our men are missing.

Another enemy raiding party was repulsed during the night north-east of Neuville St. Vaast.

1,100 YARDS FROM BAPAUME

PARIS, Thursday.—The entire German line between Rannescamps and Bapaume, says the Petit Parisien, seems on the point of being abandoned by the enemy.

Numerous explosions and fires have been observed in the enemy lines, and the Germans are certainly destroying their works in the region between Bapaume and Peronne, at Noyon and Lassigny (thirty miles south of Peronne).

The loss of the Arras-Bapaume salient would mean the loss of Peronne, and this in turn would force the German General Staff to modify their front more to the south.

The special correspondent of the Petit Journal, telegraphing from Amiens, says that despite the torrential rain, the British pressure on Bapaume goes on, and the advanced posts are now about 1,100 yards from the town cattle market.—Central News.

OUR LINE ADVANCED AT SALONIKA.

Pushed Forward 1,000 Yards on Two Miles Front.

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS, SALONIKA, Tuesday (received yesterday).—The British line south-west of Doiran has been advanced 1,000 yards on a front of 3,500 yards, bringing our trenches in places to within a couple of hundred yards of the enemy's advanced lines.

The operation, which was carried out by night, did not meet with any opposition. It was apparently unobserved by the enemy, who might have made things exceedingly unpleasant, as our men were working without cover within easy gunshot range.

However, so effectively did they use their picks and shovels that by the morning they had dug themselves in sufficiently to be out of danger of machine gun and rifle fire. They had also by that time completed the first line of entanglements.

The enemy registered our new lines next day with his field batteries, and the following night fired a few shells, without inflicting any loss. By that time our men had completed the consolidation of the new position.

The new line has several advantages. It shortens the front by straightening the salient on Horseshoe Hill, which had always been an exposed position.

Secondly, it strengthens our defences by the addition of extra lines of trenches, and, thirdly, it facilitates future raids upon the enemy's position in this sector by reducing the "No Man's Land" to the limits of a sharp sprint.—Reuter's Special.

ITALIAN ADVANCE.

FRENCH OFFICIAL.

There has been great patrol and artillery activity on the Monastir front. The Italians attacked and advanced near Hill 1050.

Between Lakes Prespa and Malik the Austrians attacked and were repulsed with loss, leaving prisoners in our hands.—Reuter.

GERMAN OFFICIAL.

On both banks of Lake Prespa and to the north of Monastir the French yesterday again advanced to the attack, with the same costly failure as on the previous day.

Between Cerna and Lake Doiran minor attacks of the enemy have been repulsed.—Wireless Press.

REVOLUTION IN RUSSIA—ABDICATION OF TSAR

Grand Duke Michael, the Tsar's Only Brother, Appointed Regent of Russia.

12 DUMA MEMBERS AS NEW GOVERNMENT.

Firing in Petrograd Streets—Many Soldiers and Civilians Killed or Wounded—Prisons Burned Down.

The silence of Russia has been broken by dramatic news, the outstanding facts being:—

Revolution in Russia.

Abdication of the Tsar.

Grand Duke Michael, the Tsar's brother, appointed Regent. It is an Anti-German win-the-war movement.

The killing of the monk Rasputin marked the beginning of the movement though it did not flame out until Sunday last.

In Petrograd the soldiers have joined the people and Moscow has adhered without bloodshed. M. Rodzianko, President of the Duma, is head of a Provisional Government of twelve, and the members of the old Cabinet, held responsible for Russia's difficulties, have been arrested.

Some days ago an Imperial ukase decreed the suspension of the Duma (Parliament), but the Duma refused to be dissolved, and events seem to have developed rapidly.

The Imperial Palaces of Tsarskoie Selo and Pavlovsk have been taken over by the soldiers. Many civilians and soldiers have been killed and wounded in Petrograd, but all is tranquil now.

The French and British Ambassadors have entered into business relations with the Provisional Government.

EMPRESS SENDS FOR PRESIDENT OF DUMA.

Grand Duke Cyril Lends Car to Troops and Addresses Them.

SOLDIERS OCCUPY PALACES.

The first news of the dramatic events in Petrograd was contained in the following telegram:—

PETROGRAD, Wednesday, 1.55 p.m.—The Government has resigned.

A Provisional Committee of the Duma has been appointed.

The troops have joined with the people. After four days of crisis there is now more tranquillity.

Many soldiers and civilians have been killed and wounded.

Political prisoners have been liberated from the prisons.

The movement has anti-German tendency.—Central News Special Correspondent.

SOUNDS OF SHOOTING.

PETROGRAD, Wednesday, 9.10 p.m.—The Minister of War and the Minister for Ways and Communications have been taken to the Taurida Palace, the seat of the Duma.

Petrograd is now gradually assuming a quieter aspect, although in most streets desultory shooting is still in progress. Few people are venturing out of doors to-night.

The workmen express the determination to employ themselves on overtime in order to make up for all the work that has been lost, and are loud in declaring their intention of carrying on the war to victory.

EMPRESS' WISH.

The Imperial palaces of Tsarskoie Selo and Pavlovsk have been taken over by the soldiers.

The commander at Tsarskoie Selo Palace called upon M. Rodzianko and stated that the Empress wished to see him.

The Grand Duke Cyril lent his automobile to troops detailed to meet machine-gun regiments which joined in the revolution, and in addressing them used these words: "We are all Russians and we must all try to avert superfluous disorder and bloodshed. We all desire the formation of a real Russian Government."

The troops in Moscow, Kharkoff and Nijni Novgorod are reported to have joined the revolutionary movement, which is spreading like wildfire.

Tremendous quantities of provisions are coming into Petrograd. M. Protopopoff has surrendered personally to the Duma.

It is freely rumoured that the Tsar will arrive in the capital to-morrow. Everyone is anxious for Moscow.—Central News Special Correspondent.

PETROGRAD, Tuesday (received yesterday).—The first duty of a British correspondent in these days of national upheaval is to assure his compatriots that "Russia is all right"—as a friend, ally and fighter.

The fiery trial she is undergoing will only steel her heart and arms. I have been day and night in the streets for the last three days, and have seen long queues of hungry men, women and children at the bakers, wanton firing with rifles and machine guns, and civil war in the main thoroughfares, but I have not heard a single word against the war.

"PROVOCATION" I.
The shortage of food, the lack of organisation and the neglect of the most elementary precautions are popularly ascribed to German influences. The word "provocation" was on all lips.

These influences the Russians are resolved to exterminate.

The killing of Rasputin was the match which set fire to a vast heap of patriotic determination. Russia would deserve well of her Allies. She would give herself a chance.

The fire quickly spread and ran from class to class, from caste to caste, from the civilians to the troops. It smouldered in Petrograd on Saturday, flamed up on Sunday, and became a conflagration yesterday. This morning I heard that its purpose has been achieved.

SAILORS JOIN IN.

All the regiments in Petrograd have declared for the Duma and the people, and the naval barracks have been opened to enable the sailors to make common cause with the rest.

I live next to the English Church behind the English quay. Up to the early hours of the morning bombs, guns and the rattle of machine guns and rifles were heard from Vassily Ostrov, which is across the Neva. They were the culminating salvoes of the national awakening.

Owing to the interruption of the tramway service and want of droshkies it would have been difficult personally to watch the successive events.

COMMANDER LOCKER-LAMPSON'S CAR.

Commander Locker-Lampson, however, placed his motor-car at my disposal on Saturday, and I drove slowly along the Nevsky Prospekt, through crowds numbering tens of thousands, intermingled with cavalry, Cossacks and patrols of infantry with fixed bayonets.

The motor-car was driven by a soldier and was frequently stopped, but my explanation that I and my companion were British invariably evoked cheers and the heartiest good wishes. The garden in front of the Kazan Cathedral was packed, when a large force of Cossacks came up. All knelt and the Cossacks did not fire.

Several of the police, including a high official,

THE TSAR'S CAREER.

1868—Born at St. Petersburg.
1894—Succeeded Alexander III.; married Princess Alex. daughter of Ludwig IV., Grand Duke of Hesse.
1898—Issued manifesto in favour of European disarmament.
1904—Birth of the Tzarevitch. Strike of 60,000 workers at Lodi.
1905—Massacre of strikers at Vassily Ostrov.
1904—War with Japan, resulting in Japanese victory.
1914—Outbreak of European war. Germany declares war on Russia. Grand Duke Nicholas assumes command of the Russian forces.

were shot. The resentment of the people was directed especially against the police, for it had become known that a considerable proportion of the troops had already refused to fire.

On Sunday some of the police sent to assist the military fired on the people, to the great indignation of the soldiery.

On Sunday night a secret meeting of the Duma was convened for Monday. The majority of the members had reached the Taurida Palace on foot.

The first thing in the morning several guards regiments declared for the people, and some officers were killed. The Litovsky Regiment refused to fire, and the Volynsky, Pavlovsky, Preobrajensky, Simenofsky, Keksholmsky and other guards, altogether 25,000 men, joined their comrades with their arms.

OFFICERS KILLED.

The arsenal, the artillery headquarters, was taken and the commandant killed.

Colonel Knox, the British Military Attaché, who was at the arsenal at the time, was escorted to the British Embassy by a guard.

The fortress of Saints Peter and Paul was also entered and the prison was opened. The fortress is now the headquarters of the revolutionary forces.

There are thousands of soldiers in the streets leading to the Duma fraternising with the people. The members arrived at the Duma building to find the Imperial rescript suspending the sittings to "not later than the middle of April."

The party leaders resolved not to disperse, and the Duma held an historic sitting, as the result of which M. Rodzianko telegraphed to the Tsar as follows:—

"The position is serious. Anarchy prevails in the capital. The Government is paralysed. The transport of provisions and fuel is completely disorganised. The general dissatisfaction is increasing. There is disorderly firing in the streets.

"The troops are firing at each other. It is necessary immediately to charge a person enjoying the confidence of the country to form a new Government.

"Delay is impossible. Any delay means death. Pray God that this may be our responsibility and that it may not fall on a crowned head."

PROCLAMATION TO ARMIES AND NAVIES.

Government's Call to All Not to Relax Struggle Against Foe for Moment.

PETROGRAD, Wednesday.—The Military Committee of the Duma has asked all officers who are not yet employed by the Committee to undertake the organisation of the soldiers who had joined the people and to help guard the capital.

The Committee has issued a statement pointing out that at the present moment, when facing an enemy who wishes to take advantage of the temporary weakness of the country, it is absolutely necessary to make every effort to maintain the power of the army, and concluding: "The blood of our comrades shed during two and a half years of war pledge us to do it."

"NOT FOR A MOMENT."

"The President of the Duma has sent to the commanders of the Baltic and Black Sea Fleets and to the chiefs of the armies on the northern, south-western, western, Rumanian, Caucasian fronts, and to the Chief of the General Staff, telegrams asking the Army and Navy to preserve absolute calm and to be sure that the struggle against the foreign enemy is not suspended or weakened even for a single moment.

GARRISON'S SUPPORT.

"As hitherto, the Army and Navy," the telegram continues, must continue firmly and valiantly defend the country, and when the Provisional Committee, with the aid of the military elements in the capital and with the moral support of the people, restore calm and regular activity, each officer, soldier and sailor should fill his duty."

The officers of the Petrograd garrison at a general meeting unanimously decided to recognise the authority of the Executive Committee of the Duma until the formation of a permanent Government.—Reuter.

TWO MINISTERS KILLED.

COPENHAGEN, Thursday.—A telegram to the Establa reports that the Russian Consul in Haparanda states that the pro-German ex-Prime Minister Stuermer and the Minister of Home Affairs, M. Protopopoff have been murdered.—Exchange.

HOW THE COMMONS HEARD THE NEWS.

Mr. Bonar Law Announces Tsar's Abdication.

TELEPHONE MESSAGE.

In the House of Commons last night Mr. Bonar Law announced that a message had been received by the Government from Petrograd to the effect that a telephone message had been received from the Duma announcing the abdication of the Tsar and that the Grand Duke Michael had been appointed Regent.

Mr. Bonar Law said it was not possible for him to give any information as to what was happening in Russia earlier.

The first news the Government had of any serious trouble in Russia came in a telegram of Friday last.

It was simply to the effect that there were disturbances in the street.

A telegram just received by naval attaché of the Russian Embassy at Paris reported that railways and public services at Petrograd were working again.

Discontent in Russia was not due to desire for peace, but because people were dissatisfied because war was not being conducted with sufficient energy.

MOSCOW COMES OVER TO NATIONAL MOVEMENT.

Over Thousand Gendarmes Arrested Together with Commander of Troops.

Moscow, Thursday.—The ancient capital is filled with popular rejoicing at the overthrow of the Government.

The officers have rallied to the new National Government and a Military Committee has been formed to preserve order and to regulate food supplies.

The Committee is backed by a brigade of artillery, five regiments of infantry and thousands of armed militia.

General Morskovsky, the commander of the troops in the Moscow district, has been arrested. Over 1,000 police and gendarmes have been arrested and brought to the Town Hall.

All the political prisoners in the great Butyrsky Prison have been released. The towns of Kharkoff and Nijni Novgorod have declared for the new Government.—Reuter.

PRISONS BURNED DOWN.

PETROGRAD, Wednesday.—The Petropavlovsk Fortress is now the headquarters of the working men's organisation.

Kreselskiy and other prisons have been burnt.

The Admiralty and the War and Foreign Affairs Departments are in the hands of the troops.

The arsenal has been seized and is firmly held. M. Stohoglovitoff, President of the Council of State, has been arrested and conveyed to the Taurida Palace.

THE STORY OF THE TSAR.

One of the most enigmatical characters in the history of modern Europe passes from the public view with the abdication of the Tsar of Russia.

Nicholas II. was born at St. Petersburg on May 8, 1868.

He was the first Tsar of Russia within historical memory to be actually born in the purple to hereditary sway over a population diversely estimated between 120,000,000 and 150,000,000 souls.

His entire life was punctuated by assassination—he might date his years by the murders of relations and of high officials. In 1882 his grandfather, Alexander II., fell.

1905 was a year of especial terror. On New Year's Day the Tsar attended the age-old ceremony of "Blessing the Navy." The saluting guns of the Fortress of Peter and Paul fired a volley of case-shot in mistake for blank cartridge, and the Tsar and his suite escaped death.

The end of 1904 and the opening months of 1905 were a period conspicuous even in the terrible annals of Russia. On June 24 of the first-named year 60,000 strikers, most of them armed, sustained a pitched battle with the soldiers in the streets of St. Petersburg.

The dreadful day which will be long remembered as "Black" or "Bloody" Sunday—January 22, 1905—was an episode of the same affair. On January 16 a strike of over 12,000 men was proclaimed at the Putiloff Ironworks, and the men passed a resolution to appeal personally to the Tsar.

Some official, mad with panic, ordered out the troops, with instructions to fire upon the offending and unarmed multitude.

DANDRUFF MAKES HAIR FALL OUT.

"Danderine" keeps hair thick, strong, beautiful.

Ladies! Try this! Doubles beauty of your hair in a few moments.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No matter how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance, an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a bottle of Knowlton's Danderine, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you certainly can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Sold and recommended by all chemists, 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 5d.

WENT TO SEA WHEN TEN YEARS OLD.

"Sailor Jack," who lives in a "cabin" at Epping, is a seaman of the old school. Born at sea on May 1, 1844, he went to sea at the age of ten, and was in sailing ships till 1871. He was shipwrecked sixteen times, and fifty-four years ago helped to dress ship for the landing in England of Queen (then Princess) Alexandra. He is seen outside his home and at tea.—(Daily Mirror photographs.)

HOW SOLDIERS CURE SORE, TENDER FEET, CORNS, BUNIONS, CHILBLAINS, ETC., IN THE TRENCHES.

Corporal Thos. S. Wilburn, of the R.A.M.C., also tells what to do for feet that Ache, Burn, Smart, Swell and Blister.

Medical men tell us corns, callouses, bunions, etc., are simply indications of tissue injury to which the feet are susceptible, due to their distance from the heart and consequent defective blood circulation through the veins and great strain. In my case I found that various advertised powders, ointments, etc., only increased the torture, but simply placing the feet in hot foot-baths containing a tablespoonful of common Resol bath saturates will always afford instant relief and a permanent cure. It was one day while resting my legs in hot salted water to reduce rheumatic swelling, pain and stiffness that I discovered the remarkable effects upon foot troubles. Even the worst corns soften and come right out, red and aching only a small hole that soon closes. You just sit and feel the medicated and oxygenated water drawing all the pain and stiffness out of the feet while soothing irritated nerves. It stimulates the circulation and immediately disperses the blood above mentioned, which renders the skin active, healthy and free from offensive odour or effects of acid perspiration, thus banishing any of the foot troubles for all time. The ordinary Resol bath saturates can be obtained at slight cost from any chemist, and a half-penny is a most welcome present for your friend in the trenches. I know from the competition here for packets I receive occasionally.

NOTE.—Letters similar to the above have also been received from the following and numerous other soldiers—Sergeant R. Schneider, A.S.C., M.T.; Sergeant C. S. Turner, R.A.M.C.; Corporal Thos. Jukes, A.S.C.; Corporal J. R. Pitts, A.S.C., M.T.; Corporal Jim Sullivan, Army Physical Trainer; Corporal R. Charles, A.S.C., M.T.—(Advt.)

INSTANT RELIEF WITH A SMALL BOTTLE OF OLD, HONEST "ST. JACOBS OIL."

Stop "dosing" for Rheumatism.

The pain is the real disease; not one case of rheumatism in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right into the painful stiff joints and muscles, and by the time you say Jack Robinson away goes the rheumatic pain! "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless liniment for rheumatism, which never disappoints and does not burn the skin. It stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia, and reduces swelling.

Get a small bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from your chemist, and in a moment you will be free from all pains, aches and stiffness. There is no need to suffer!—(Advt.)

FOR RUN-DOWN PEOPLE.

The condition of being "run-down" is one that doctors do not recognise as a disease; the physician of to-day who gets his training in a hospital where severe disorders only are encountered knows little about it. But those who are run down in health know that it is not a fancied affliction. The expression "run-down" comes from the feeble action of an unwound clock, and the comparison is a good one. Applied to health, it means a condition in which all the bodily functions are enfeebled. Appetite fails, the digestion is impaired, the nerves are impoverished, the complexion becomes pale, there is no animation, but rather worry and mental depression. Fatigue is a constant symptom.

No particular organ being affected, you must look for relief to the blood, as it circulates everywhere. Improvement in the blood is quickly felt throughout the entire system, and Dr. Williams' pink pills for pale people are the best and most convenient blood builders. As your blood becomes rich and red, the various organs regain their tone and the body recovers its vigour. If you have any or all of the above symptoms try the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' pink pills, but never buy a substitute.

SERVANTS AND SAVING.

YOU will remember that the hero of "The Importance of Being Earnest" asks his butler one day, as a mere matter of curiosity, why it is that in a bachelor's establishment the servants invariably consume the champagne.

The butler gives as an explanation that champagne is rarely of a first-class brand in married households. "Dear me! I marriage really as demoralising as that?"

The little dialogue reveals an old and respected servant's point of view.

Food not consumed upstairs is meant to be eaten (or wasted) downstairs: as at the Universities, where the hospitable man's broken meals are carried off by the scout, and never seen any more. Some cooks (rare ones) are economical. Most cooks, in England, hold that the food once sent down need not be considered as worth grave thought. The family overhead have always enough money for food, have they not? Otherwise what are they there for? Well, then, why do they complain, if so many dozens of potatoes—not to speak of bottles of champagne—are recorded in the weekly books as having been consumed, though everybody remembers that at most two or three dozen were used that week before the war.

Food as a mere nothing—food to be ordered generously from the tradesmen—plenty of food—plenty of meat—plenty of everything: certainly, before the war it was a generous conception of servants. It was the way life should be conducted, as between parlour and kitchen.

When the war began, the last to economise—we are told by many of the letters written to us here—were the servants. They didn't see why they should. After all they were not paying for the food, were they?

When the war went on, and we came to food scarcity, still the servants would not economise—say our letters still.

Yet the servants know there's a war on. Their brothers and friends are serving. But to serve is one thing, to save another. No potatoes? The loudest shout of protest came from the servants.

This was and is serious, because they alone can save, through the tradespeople. They alone can "keep the books down" in middle-class households. Do not try to "save on the books" without the aid of the cook. You will be defeated and fail.

That, we presume, is why there is a proposal (which may come to nothing) for a mass meeting of servants to consider how to save.

Will there also be a mass meeting of middle-class housewives to consider how to make servants save?

And which meeting will help the Food Controller to his aim?

We dare advance no strong opinion between these rival classes. Only we report the mistresses' or housewives' opinion: which is, briefly, that the mass meeting of servants will prove to be simply a meeting to demand "more meat and plenty of potatoes as usual." For the idea of there being a real scarcity will never, it appears, penetrate as far as the kitchen. It has reached the first floor with difficulty; you must not expect it to go further for some time. W. M.

CHANCE AND TIME.

Children, keep up that harmless play:
Your kindred angels plainly say:
By God's authority, so may.

Be prompt His holy word to hear,
It teaches you to banish fear;
The lesson lies on all sides near.

Ten summers hence the sprightliest lad
In Nature's face will look more sad,
And ask where are those smiles she hid.

Ere many days the last will close—
Play on, play on! for then who knows?
You who play here may have repose.

—WALTER SAVAGE LANDAU.

OUR ADVANCE OVER NO MAN'S LAND.

TOWARDS BAPAUME OVER THE GERMAN TRENCHES.

By C. E. W. BEAN.

(This article, by the Official Australian War Correspondent, is issued by the High Commissioner of Australia.)

WHEN the Australians left their trenches last Saturday evening and started towards the German trenches facing them they moved across what is perhaps the most torn and tortured strip in earth's surface.

Volcanoes have sometimes obliterated a town and left a district some miles in extent covered with mud and ashes. But I doubt if any volcano that has burst the crust of earth since the days when the earth was molten has ever torn the flesh of any landscape from its ribs to the extent to which five months of reached, reverent hands are covering those who fell with such burial as the opportunities of battle allow.

We stepped through the German wire, now battered in the mud, and on to the irregular earthen mound which wandered behind it. And below us lay the German trench.

WHAT WAS LEFT OF IT!

They had blown up some of their dug-outs and had hacked the timber away from others—but enough remained of this trench to show how good in parts it had been. It ran behind the firesteps and about four feet below them, a deep, neatly constructed passage, the sides revetted with brushwood hurdles. Every ten yards or so there seemed to be a deep dug-out.

It was a part of the line which projected into our own, and which they knew was liable at any moment to be raided. For that reason it had been intentionally improved. Further ceaseless shellfire has shattered the Somme battlefield.

Ahead, on the far edge of the hilltop perhaps two hundred yards away, is an irregular fence of broken-down wire.

In some parts you can see it over the brow of the hill—in other parts it sneaks away low behind the brow again. The frozen chocolate sea in between is scattered with huddled bundles of khaki. They lie there right up to the German trench in front, and one found them right down the slope beyond as far as the German support trench—they lie there side by side—Australians, British, Scottish, exactly as they fell in that last attack in November, when the wheel of the Somme battle made its last slow turn in the Somme mud and came temporarily to a standstill. Now, the first moment when they can be along it had become a muddy, dishevelled mud drain, as bad as the worst on our side. Here and there even at its best it had been blotted right out of recognition.

At more than one point the neat, narrow, hurdle-lined passage opened out into a wide, open-mouthed mudhole—sometimes into two or three together. And always near the edge of these lay two or three Germans. I suppose that I counted a dozen Germans dead close behind their trench. Apparently they had some of them been killed by trench mortar bursts and others by machine gun or shell fire as they came up over the top to their trench. The Germans had let them lie there behind their own trenches unburied—a fact which does not speak much for the moral of this particular garrison.

WHAT WE COULD EAT.

VARIOUS SUGGESTIONS ABOUT FOOD FOR A TIME OF ECONOMY.

WHY NOT MICE?

PEOPLE will soon be suggesting that we should eat mice or blackbeetles!

Really, things are not as bad as all that.

The sparrow suggestion is especially idiotic, as any of your readers will find who try to eat a sparrow. M. E. Putney.

DON'T EXTERMINATE THEM!

WITH reference to your letter on this subject, I shall feel glad to be allowed space in your columns to state some facts in favour of sparrows.

My father, who was a farmer in Essex, suffered from the bold attack on his poultry; and thinking to prevent a recurrence of this trouble, he offered to the schoolboys in the neighbourhood (Chelmsford) a penny per dozen for the eggs of the birds, and one can imagine that he had to part with a good number of pennies.

This was about the year 1860. Probably some of your readers may have been those very boys, who will remember the circumstances.

The offer was not repeated, from the fact that a whole plague of caterpillars and insects made their appearance, which could not be kept down owing to the scarcity of young birds, the above pests being their natural food, and therefore far in excess of their requirements.

Again, "Don't exterminate the sparrows!" ALFRED JOSLING.

"NO INFERIOR SEX."

AFTER all, what is a secret?

There are shallow people who are always inflicting trivial secrets upon you, what the French call "secrets de polichinelle," because they "can trust you." Now, I don't tell that bounder Jack where I got these cigars, or "I know, dear, you won't tell Miranda where I bought this sweet tongue, I hate duplicates at garden parties." They don't wait to extract a promise even to give you a chance of escape.

These don't count; but in every profession, in the post-offices, banks, etc., where woman is expected to keep discretionary secrets and secrets of honour, it will be found that she keeps them as conscientiously as men. In this, as in other things, it should be remembered that there is no inferior sex—only inferior individuals. Both men and women. E. F. St. Leonards-on-Sea.

MALE NURSES.

I THINK that it would be very much better for all the clergy who undertake National Service to be attached to some of the hospitals for the wounded, instead of hoeing the field, coal mining or similar occupations in which their actual services are by no means paid to the best use.

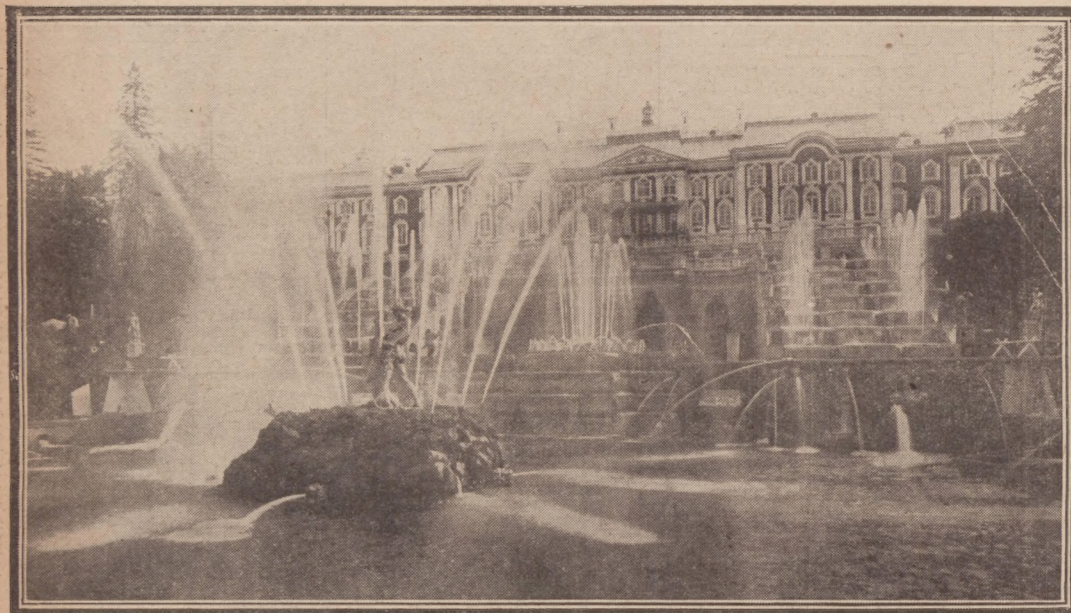

But in hospitals there is so much nursing which can far better be done by men than women that the clergy would find the greatest scope for service. F. MARTINEZ HULK.

slope reached down before us for six or eight hundred yards. At the foot of it were a line of stumpy willows and the bottom of a muddy valley. But from there began the green up-slope. In the very bottom of the valley were the shattered trees and roofless houses of a recently-taken village. To the right of it and a little above, amongst less shattered trees, were the shells of the houses of a second village. And in an adjoining wood just next to it up the hill could be made out what remains of the roofs of yet a third. In front, in a patch of green country, could be seen four or five men busy behind a bank. Amongst the trees moved another. An isolated patch of white trench kept them back at that period from Thillois.

The next night they were through it and a mile from Bapaume.

You probably cannot get Potatoes

The NATURAL SUBSTITUTE is BREAD, but be sure that bread is TUROG.

BECAUSE:—A loaf of Turog contains three times the nutritive value of an equal weight of potatoes at a less cost per food unit, and it is more satisfying than any other bread you can buy.

Turog is a suitable food at every meal; its delicious, natural flavour blends perfectly with, and increases the palatability of the other food you take. Turog is so easily digestible that it gives strength to the body instead of robbing the body of strength in an effort to digest. It is the exclusive Turog process of preparation that accounts for the delicious flavour, and for the ease of assimilation and great nourishment.

NEWS FROM THE EAST.

ON TUESDAY I warned you to expect important developments on the eastern front during the course of a few days. Now comes the good news that the British line south-west of Doiran, north-west of Salonika, has been advanced 1,000 yards on a front of 3,500 yards. Bagdad has fallen, and we are more firmly entrenched than ever in Macedonia. Now for Bapaume!

The Greek Situation.

I HEAR that Mr. Lloyd George's letter to the Athens Bar Association has made a strong impression in the United States. King Constantine a month ago told his woes to the Americans in an interview, but said nothing about the tearing up of the Serbian treaty or about the transfer of a Greek army corps to the enemies of the Allies.

Less Crime in Ireland.

THE IRISH PRISONS BOARD have found it possible to close a few of the gaols in the country. It is likely in the near future several more will be dispensed with. Last year the number of committals (19,399) was the lowest on record.

"Jitney Ships."

THE NEW YORK NEWSPAPERS, with their talent for slang, have christened the wooden cargo vessels of small tonnage, which it is proposed to build to foil the submarines, "jitney ships." An interesting history, by the way, attaches to the word. "Jitney" is the slang term used in the Western cities for the nickel five cent (or 2½d.) coin.

"Small and Cheap."

A FEW YEARS ago in many of these cities disputes grew up with the local tramway companies, and antiquated motor-cars were run as omnibuses in competition with them. They carried passengers for five cents or a jitney, and so were called "jitney buses," and now the word jitney is used for anything small and cheap.

No Change at Brixton.

I STATED the other day that Mr. Walter de Frece had been adopted as Unionist candidate for Brixton. My informant, however, appears to have been mistaken, for yesterday morning Mr. Davison Dalziel, the member for the constituency, told me that the report was inaccurate. Every Brixtonian will be delighted to learn that Mr. Dalziel has no intention of resigning his seat.

Those Matches.

I AM UNABLE to believe that the matches we are using (or enduring) nowadays are made in heaven.

A Cowboy Novelist.

I HEAR that Mr. Christopher Culley, who is a brother-in-law of General Headlam, is about to publish a novel entitled "Naomi of the Mountains."

Mr. Culley has had a more romantic career than falls to the lot of most men of letters. He started life as a cowboy, and afterwards became a cattle owner.

Our Climate Again.

MR. CULLEY, who is now breeding sheep and cattle in this country—and, as he says, "cursing the climate"—tells me that he never tried to write in his cowboy days, except some love verses in Spanish. "But," he says, "I was a pretty good pistol shot." Whether he will hit the bull's-eye of the popular taste remains to be seen.

Mr. Christopher Culley.

A Dessert Course.

WHEN is a course not a course? Well, the apples we shall buy at all the restaurants on Mesopotamia Day will not even count as a half-course, for they are the substitutes Miss Maude, General Maude's daughter, has chosen instead of flags.

Apple Ladies.

I FOUND Miss MAUDE yesterday among piles of correspondence in her office. She tells me that if you lunch at the Berkeley Miss Clara Butt will bend down and insert the miniature apple in your buttonhole; if at the Savoy, Miss Gertrude Millar will perform the kind office; and at Claridge's the Hon. Mrs. Aubrey Herbert will serve you with your half portion.

Entertaining Anxacs.

THE HON. MRS. EDWARDS, who gives weekly parties to the Australian officers, always manages to give them something fresh. On Wednesday four of Miss Rosina Filippi's pupils sang Neapolitan ditties in costume with dances and action. The colours of the dresses were gorgeous oranges, yellows and greens. Afterwards Miss Elizabeth Pollock acted in a little war-work play.

"General Post's" Victory.

"ONE OF THE MOST brilliant comedies of the war" seemed to be the first-night verdict on "General Post," Mr. Harold Terry's new play at the Haymarket Theatre. It is indeed very clever, very fresh, and very amusing. It is just the play for those back from the war and for those who can't go there. It is topical and stimulating.

Mr. George Tully.

places in the social scale is all part of the game of General Post. Mr. Norman McKinnel, Miss Madge Titheradge (just a little hoarse) and Miss Lilian Braithwaite acted splendidly. Mr. George Tully makes a noble fellow of the martial tailor.

In the Audience.

WITH HER HAIR done in an adorable style (it reminded me of Dora's curls in "David Copperfield"), Miss Lily Elsie was a great object of interest in the audience. Sir Charles and Lady Wyndham were in a box, and at the back of the box above them Mr. Harold Terry, the author, could be discerned standing on one leg and then on the other while the actors delivered his lines. But there was really no need for him to be nervous.

For Patriots.

BEGIN your day with porridge; do not make both ends meet.

The Optimist.

AFTER THE PERFORMANCE at Daly's the other night some of the chorus suddenly cheered lustily over something. Mr. Merlin Morgan, the musical director, was passing a group of workmen beneath the stage at the time. "What's that cheering for, Bill?" asked one. "Dunno," answered Bill, usually noted for his melancholy, "but I shouldn't wonder if it wasn't peace!"

Twenty-Six Guineas for a Box.

THERE WAS a full "house" at the Coliseum when I looked in the other night. I arrived just in time to hear Mr. Alfred Lester put up for auction a box for next Friday's royal matinee. The box had already been secured for ten guineas by Miss Vesta Tilley, who had agreed to relinquish her rights to it. It was ultimately purchased by a member of the audience, who offered another sixteen guineas.

A Great Story.

THE NEW Daily Mirror serial is the best story that has ever appeared in The Daily Mirror. It contains a strong human interest, and it will grip and enthral the reader from the first line to the last. The author has a host of ardent admirers, who will be delighted when the full announcement is published tomorrow.

The Queen of Rumania.

I LEARN from the Rumanian Legation that there is no truth in the statement that the Queen of Rumania and her younger children have been staying in Petrograd. As a matter of fact, her Majesty has been at Jassy ever since the retreat of the Rumanian Army, and is determined to stay by her husband's side until the war is over.

Mr. Kipling and the Authors' Society.

SO MR. RUDYARD KIPLING has resigned from the Authors' Society. He will be missed, for he has been a faithful member for the last twenty-six years. By the way, have you noticed how much older Mr. Kipling looks than he did before the war? I saw him a few weeks ago, and found it hard to recognise in him the same wiry and alert-looking man whom I had seen at Brighton two or three years previously.

Stout Fellows.

WHY ARE employers so particular about the figures of their assistants? "Fat buyer wanted" is how a firm of soapmakers make known their requirements in a morning newspaper.

Bits of New Chelsea.

MR. AUGUSTUS JOHN's studio will be reproduced as one of the scenes in the forthcoming "Review of Chelsea" at the Chelsea Palace on Wednesday. One of the most picturesque studios I have been in is that of Mr. William Orpen. Among its furnishings is a beautiful old bed with painted panels, which formerly belonged to Angelica Kaufman.

as well as your frocks. Give your skin day by day the benefit of an oxygen bath as provided by the Ven-Yusa treatment. This will promote its clearness and beauty.

Ven-Yusa acts beneath as well as on the surface of the skin. It stimulates and brings out the natural colour tones of the complexion, producing a beautiful, smooth texture and a youthful appearance.

Whose Plan?

THE GERMAN GENERAL STAFF give out that the Huns are retiring "according to plan." Yes—according to Haig's plan.

Telephone Complaints.

WE READ of a well-known medical man being appointed as chief medical officer to the Post Office. This is good, for it appears that the Post Office are suffering from numerous telephone complaints.

A Versatile Judge.

ONE OF the cleverest amateur actors in Ireland is County Court Judge Brereton Barry, who has recently played in some of the principal Irish theatres. A first-class black-and-white artist, he usually sketches his prisoners while he tries them.

Cause of the Trouble.

"TROUBLE in the Hungarian Diet," the headline said. We know just what the trouble with their diet is due to—it's the British Navy's blockade.

Not Sport.

A DONKEY was killed by an Army caterpillar in the Strand the other day. It was an unequal combat from the first.

WINDSOR MEETING TO-DAY

Returns for the Concluding Afternoon at Colwall Park.

The weather was delightfully fine at Colwall Park yesterday, and sport was good, although the going was on the heavy side.

After the last race, the Mather Stewards' objections were lodged by the riders of both Scarlet Button and Hartstown on the score of foul riding. After investigation the Stewards overruled both objections.

As expected, the Stewards yesterday declared the race for the Barton Court Chase void, owing to the ineligibility of Cardross to run. The son of Cardross-Loumou Lass proved to be the same horse which won a 'chase at Runny in 1915, and so was wrongly entered in the race on Wednesday, which was for maidens.

An additional meeting under National Hunt Rules will be held at Windsor on Friday and Saturday, April 13 and 14.

The postponed Windsor meeting will commence to-day, 12.45—EARLY MORNING. 2.30—YELLOW COT. 1.15—WOODEN BRIDGE. 2.0—DRUMLANRIG. 3.0—SWEET. 3.30—SWEET.

NEWMARKET ONLY.

There will, so far as is known at present, be no racing this summer except at Newmarket.
The "Racing Calendar" yesterday contained the following notice:—The Stewards of the Jockey Club having received notice from clerks of courses that certain meetings which it was intended to hold in 1917 cannot take place have decided that any races provisionally closed for such meetings must be declared null and void.
These races include the Epsom Derby and Oaks and other important races at other tracks.

The death is announced of John Somerville, the famous full back and former secretary of the Bolton Wanderers Football Club.

News reached Cheltenham yesterday of the death in action of Captain John Alfred E.A., the well-known international Rugby footballer. He was twenty-six years of age.

In a fifteen-round boxing contest at the Ring yesterday afternoon Sergeant Zimber beat Sergeant Fred Preston on points. Jack Levene (Aldgate) beat Albert Hurst (Bedford Green) in a ten-round bout. In another ten rounds George Cannon (Notting Hill) drew with Charlie Williams (King's Cross).

WAR—CONSUMPTION.

The Tubercle Bacillus is still claiming its victims, and, unfortunately, many of our men who have occupied the Hun's bullets have only done so to be claimed by this insidious germ, the Tubercle Bacillus. There is, however, a remedy to combat it, although it has not yet been officially recognised, and anyone suffering from Consumption or Tuberculosis in whatever form will be wise to write for full particulars of the Sterna's Treatment, or if full details of the case are sent a supply of the remedy itself will be dispatched, specially suitable, on the distinct understanding that nothing whatever need be paid for it unless the patient be perfectly satisfied with the benefit received and considers the progress made warrants its continuance. Only address, Charles H. Stevens, 204 and 206, Worple-road, Wimbledon, London, S.W. (Adv.)

SOLDIER FARMERS IN BEDFORDSHIRE.

About 200 convalescent soldiers, most of them sons of farmers, have been put to work on the land in Bedfordshire. They are nearly all skilled in the various branches of agriculture, and receive the wages current in the district together with board and lodging. The farmers are very pleased at getting this labour placed at their disposal. The prospect of having 63 men did not appeal to them at all.
